

We hope that all our NSW recipients enjoyed their first weekend of “freedom” – a tap beer, catching up with friends, eating out at restaurants – it was all a bit surreal but a welcome change.

We have two excellent articles this month that are very relevant in the current market... What's happening with Lending, how will this impact my plans and Investing – when is it a good time? Enjoy and as always – any questions on your personal situation, just click here and we will be in touch.

The Tempus office is welcoming clients who prefer face to face meetings working within the COVID19 guidelines. Our team are back in the office part-time and enjoying being back together again.

As always, stay safe and check in on your friends and family.

Reserve Bank warns home loan restrictions ‘may be adjusted’ if house market doesn’t cool

The RBA has warned the community not to expect instant results from the banking regulator's move to tighten home loan application tests, with changes potentially taking months to filter through to a cooler property market.

When is the Best Time to Invest?

Often our clients ask us, is now a good time to invest our money? What about COVID? what about all of the volatility in the markets? If you are investing for the long term (like in superannuation), invariably our answer is almost always yes, now is a good time to invest. Why? This article helps to explain our answer, but very basically, when you have a long term investment horizon, you can ride out the short term volatility of markets.
