Congratulations!

You have successfully completed all requirements of the aged care advice accreditation training program offered by Aged Care Steps.

We are pleased to enclose your Accredited Aged Care Professional™ certificate. You may wish to display this certificate in your office to identify yourself to clients and prospective clients as an aged care advice professional.

You may also wish to note that you are an Accredited Aged Care Professional™ in your marketing activities. If you would like a jpg file of the accreditation logo to use on your website, email signature or other marketing material please send an email request to training@agedcaresteps.com.au

When using the status of Accredited Aged Care Professional™ you should ensure that you do not imply to clients that this has any legal status. It also does not allow you to use post-nominal designations. The status indicates that you have successfully undertaken our comprehensive training program which can help to identify you as a specialist. We are working towards creating greater recognition for this title within the aged care industry and within the wider community.

We would like to take this opportunity to wish you well with your aged care advice. This is an area of increasing need for clients and can be very rewarding and fulfilling for professionals working in this space. However, it does require commitment to keeping up to date and building your knowledge and skills.

Don't forget that if you need help, Aged Care Steps is here to offer support. Our services are broadly grouped into three categories:

- Training – ongoing training courses as workshops and face-to-face webinars to broaden the depth and scope of your knowledge, personal skills and understanding of the aged care industry. Keep an eye on our website and newsletters for the training calendar
- Paraplanning support – either use our fully facilitated paraplanning service to prepare your client advice documents or do it yourself with a subscription to our Advice Generator™. The Generator includes modelling software and template text.
- Business Toolkit™ – an online subscription service that provides a range of tools to help with marketing activities to clients, provide support with advice processes, help you interact with clients and build your technical knowledge.

For further information on these services contact us at training@agedcaresteps.com.au

Wishing you all the best with building your aged care advice business.
